

The Spirit Moves... Even Digitally

Frankfort 1st Presbyterian church was blessed late December when they welcomed Jim Medearis as a new member.

Even in this time of separation the Spirit has been moving, prodding and preparing the church to continue as the church. As Jim tells us "God told me 'It's time to put some icing on the cake'" God has not stayed silent even in such a strange digital time.

Not only did our digital world yield a way to broaden God's family, it allowed Frankfort to share their joy with the three other congregations that share in the ministry life. Frankfort is one of a four church ministry partnership. The four congregations have always engaged in ministry together, sharing a pastor, worshiping together, sharing confirmation classes and other resources. This is the first time they were able to celebrate as one body in the welcoming of a new member to one of the partner churches.
